Zebra Print Solutions VP and General Manager is Overseeing Explosive Company Growth

Denise Dingee says commercial printer has no slow periods

Morrisville, NC – 12 December 2005 – Denise Dingee, Vice President and General Manager of Zebra Print Solutions, relates that the phone has been ringing off the hook since Zebra Print Solutions opened its production and fulfillment center on Globe Road at the end of November. “Customers have been calling to extend their congratulations on our new business. And even more importantly, they have been calling to place orders. In our first week as Zebra Print Solutions, we took in new orders totaling 20% more than those placed during the same period last year. And last year was a very good year.”

Dingee has worked for Zebra owners Charlotte and Pat DiLeonardo for the past seven years in their franchised print shops in Raleigh and was made Vice President and General Manager last year. Pat DiLeonardo says that Dingee’s work ethic, rapport with customers, expertise in print management and sales, and her attention to company growth made it inevitable that she would assume a major leadership role within their organization. In sales alone last year, Dingee brought in $100,000 more print business than the year before, second only to company CEO Charlotte DiLeonardo.

As VP/General Manager, she manages Zebra Print Solutions’ 20+ employees. She also creates pricing strategies, matches new accounts with the most appropriate account manager, and oversees production. In addition, she works with the DiLeonardos to analyze operations and create opportunities for growth. Dingee says, “We have developed strong business relationships in the Triangle community over the years based on customer service, on-time and accurate fulfillment and delivery, and did I mention that we have a great staff?! With Zebra’s new production and fulfillment facility near Brier Creek, there is so much more room for us to operate. I’m very excited about the opportunities this will provide the company. And I'm very much looking forward to participating in our business' growth as we move forward."
